

ONE WORDS

SUBSTITUTION

HTTPS://CHITRABAZAR.COM/

Baby: A very young child; an infant.

Back: The rear surface of something; to move in reverse.

Bag: A container made of flexible material used for carrying items.

Ball: A spherical object used in various sports and games.

Bank: A financial institution where people deposit and withdraw money.

Bar: A place where alcoholic beverages are served; a solid, long object.

Base: The bottom or foundation of something; a starting point.

Basic: Fundamental or essential; relating to the simplest form.

Basket: A container made of woven material, often used for carrying goods.

Battle: A fight or conflict between opposing forces.

Bbq: An abbreviation for "barbecue," referring to the cooking method and the food prepared using it.

Example: "They had a bbq party in the backyard with grilled burgers and hot dogs."

Bb: An abbreviation for "billion," often used in finance and economics to represent a large numerical value.

Example: "The company's annual revenue exceeded $10B (10 billion dollars)."

Bce: An abbreviation for "Before Common Era," used in historical dating to refer to years before the start of the Common Era or before AD (Anno Domini).

Example: "The construction of the ancient monument dates back to 3000 BCE."

Bcba: An abbreviation for "Board Certified Behavior Analyst," a professional certification for individuals who work in the field of applied behavior analysis.

Example: "She became a BCBA after completing her advanced studies in behavior analysis."

Bc: An abbreviation for "because," often used in informal writing or texting to represent the word "because."

Example: "I can't go to the party tonight bc I have to work."

Bdellium: A fragrant resin obtained from certain trees, often used in perfumes and incense.

Example: "Bdellium resin has been used in traditional medicine and perfumery for centuries."

Bdellometer: An instrument used for measuring the strength of small electric currents.

Example: "The scientist used a bdellometer to measure the electrical activity in the sample."

Bdellotomy: A rarely used medical term referring to the surgical removal of a leech.

Example: "Bdellotomy was performed to remove the leech that had attached itself to the patient."

Beautiful: Pleasing to the senses; possessing beauty.

Example: "The sunset over the ocean was incredibly beautiful."

Begin: To start or commence something.

Example: "Let's begin the meeting with a brief introduction."

Believe: To accept something as true or real.

Example: "I believe in the power of positive thinking."

Benefit: An advantage or positive result; to gain from something.

Example: "Regular exercise has numerous health benefits."

Between: In the space separating two things or individuals; in the middle of.

Example: "The park is located between the two tall buildings."

Beyond: On the other side of; further or more extensive than.

Example: "His knowledge goes beyond what is taught in textbooks."

Because: For the reason that; due to the fact that.

Example: "She couldn't attend the event because she had a prior commitment."

Before: Earlier in time or position; in front of.

Example: "Please arrive a few minutes before the meeting starts."

Beginner: A person who is new to a particular activity or skill; a novice.

Example: "The beginner's yoga class is perfect for those new to yoga."

Behavior: The way a person acts or conducts themselves.

Example: "Her behavior at the party was polite and courteous."

Behind: In or to a position further back than something else; in the rear.

Example: "The car behind us is honking impatiently."

Belong: To be the property of or be a part of a particular group or category.

Example: "These books belong on the top shelf."

Benevolent: Showing kindness and goodwill; charitable.

Example: "The benevolent organization provides aid to those in need."

Beside: Next to or at the side of; in comparison to.

Example: "She sat beside her best friend during the concert."

Bestow: To confer or present something as a gift or honor.

Example: "The award was bestowed upon her for her outstanding contributions."

Betray: To be disloyal or unfaithful to someone's trust or confidence.

Example: "His actions seemed to betray his true intentions."

Beneficial: Producing good or favorable results; advantageous.

Example: "Regular exercise is beneficial for overall health."

Beneath: In a lower position; below or under.

Example: "The treasure was hidden beneath the ancient ruins."

Bereavement: The state of being deprived of a loved one through death.

Example: "She went through a period of deep bereavement after her father's passing."

Beseech: To implore or beg someone earnestly.

Example: "He would beseech her forgiveness for his mistake."

Bet: To wager or gamble by predicting an outcome, often involving money or valuables.

Example: "He placed a bet on his favorite team to win the game."

Better: Of higher quality or more desirable; to improve or enhance.

Example: "Eating a balanced diet can lead to better health."

Betray: To be disloyal or unfaithful to someone's trust or confidence.

Example: "His actions seemed to betray his true intentions."

Betwixt: An archaic or poetic word meaning "between."

Example: "They met betwixt the two old oak trees."

Betide: To happen or occur; to befall.

Example: "Whatever may betide, we'll face it together."

Betrayal: The act of being disloyal or unfaithful; an act of betrayal.

Example: "The betrayal of his closest friend hurt him deeply."

Betoken: To be a sign or indication of something; to signify.

Example: "The dark clouds betokened an impending storm."

Betony: A flowering plant often used in traditional herbal medicine.

Example: "Some people use betony to make herbal remedies."

Betwixt: An archaic or poetic word meaning "between."

Example: "They met betwixt the two old oak trees."

Betide: To happen or occur; to befall.

Example: "Whatever may betide, we'll face it together."

Betrayal: The act of being disloyal or unfaithful; an act of betrayal.

Example: "The betrayal of his closest friend hurt him deeply."

Betoken: To be a sign or indication of something; to signify.

Example: "The dark clouds betokened an impending storm."

Betony: A flowering plant often used in traditional herbal medicine.

Example: "Some people use betony to make herbal remedies."

Beverage: A liquid for drinking, typically non-alcoholic, such as water, tea, coffee, or soda.

Example: "I ordered a cold beverage to quench my thirst on a hot day."

Bhagavad Gita: A 700-verse Hindu scripture that is part of the Indian epic Mahabharata, containing a conversation between Prince Arjuna and the god Krishna.

Example: "The Bhagavad Gita is considered a sacred text in Hinduism."

Bharatanatyam: A traditional Indian classical dance form that originated in the southern state of Tamil Nadu.

Example: "She has been practicing Bharatanatyam for many years."

Bhutan: A landlocked country in South Asia, known for its stunning mountain landscapes and Buddhist culture.

Example: "Bhutan is often referred to as the 'Land of the Thunder Dragon.'"

Bhikkhu: A Buddhist monk, particularly in Theravada Buddhism.

Example: "The Bhikkhu spent years in meditation and study."

Bhindi: The Hindi word for "okra," a green vegetable often used in cooking.

Example: "She prepared a delicious bhindi curry for dinner."

Bicycle: A two-wheeled vehicle that is powered by pedaling and commonly used for transportation.

Example: "She rides her bicycle to work every day."

Biography: An account of a person's life, often written by someone else.

Example: "The biography of the famous inventor was inspiring."

Biology: The scientific study of living organisms and their interactions with each other and their environment.

Example: "She decided to major in biology to pursue a career in science."

Bilingual: Able to speak and understand two languages fluently.

Example: "Growing up in a multicultural environment, he became bilingual in English and Spanish."

Binoculars: Optical instruments with two telescopes mounted side by side, used for viewing distant objects.

Example: "He used binoculars to get a closer look at the birds in the tree."

Bisect: To divide into two equal parts or segments.

Example: "The chef decided to bisect the dessert to serve smaller portions."

Biodegradable: Capable of being decomposed by natural processes and not causing harm to the environment.

Example: "Many eco-friendly products are made from biodegradable materials."

Binary: Relating to or composed of two things or parts.

Example: "The computer operates using a binary code of 0s and 1s."

Bipolar: Having two opposite or extreme tendencies; a mental disorder characterized by mood swings.

Example: "She was diagnosed with bipolar disorder and received treatment."

Biweekly: Occurring every two weeks or twice a week, depending on the context.

Example: "His salary is paid biweekly, on the 1st and 15th of each month."

Bisexual: Experiencing attraction to both males and females.

Example: "She openly identifies as a bisexual individual."

Biopsy: The removal and examination of a small sample of tissue from the body for medical diagnosis.

Example: "The doctor recommended a biopsy to determine the nature of the lump."

Bilateral: Involving or related to two sides or parties.

Example: "The bilateral trade agreement benefits both countries."

Bistro: A small, casual restaurant or café, typically serving simple and hearty dishes.

Example: "They had lunch at a charming bistro in the heart of the city."

Bite: To use the teeth to cut or grip something; a wound or mark made by biting.

Example: "The dog's bite was painful, and she needed medical attention."

Black: The darkest color; the absence of light.

Example: "The night sky was filled with stars against a black backdrop."

Blue: A color resembling the clear sky on a sunny day.

Example: "She painted her bedroom walls in a calming shade of blue."

Blanket: A large piece of fabric used for covering and keeping warm.

Example: "She snuggled under a cozy blanket while watching TV."

Bliss: A state of extreme happiness, joy, or contentment.

Example: "Spending time in nature brings her a sense of bliss."

Blend: To mix or combine different substances or elements together.

Example: "He likes to blend various fruits to make a healthy smoothie."

Bleak: Desolate and without hope; cold and dreary.

Example: "The outlook for the small town's economy was bleak."

Blossom: The flower of a plant, especially one that is colorful and fragrant.

Example: "The cherry trees blossomed in the spring."

Blouse: A loose-fitting upper garment, typically worn by women.

Example: "She paired her jeans with a stylish blouse."

Block: A solid piece of material, often used to build structures or for various purposes.

Example: "The construction workers used concrete blocks for the foundation."

Blow: To expel air forcefully from the mouth or another opening; a sudden burst of air.

Example: "He used a fan to blow cool air into the room."

Blunder: A careless or foolish mistake.

Example: "His blunder cost the team the victory."

Bloom: The state of flowering or producing flowers; to flourish or thrive.

Example: "The garden was in full bloom with colorful flowers."

Blizzard: A severe snowstorm with strong winds and low visibility.

Example: "They had to stay indoors during the blizzard."

Blowfish: A type of fish known for its ability to inflate itself when threatened.

Example: "The blowfish puffed up as a defense mechanism."

Blueberry: A small, round, and often sweet berry with a blue-purple color.

Example: "She enjoyed a bowl of oatmeal with fresh blueberries for breakfast."

Boat: A watercraft designed for travel or transportation on water.

Example: "They went fishing in a small boat on the lake."

Body: The physical structure of a human or animal; the main part of something.

Example: "Exercise is good for both the body and mind."

Book: A written or printed work consisting of pages bound together; to make a reservation.

Example: "She read a fascinating book during her vacation."

Bold: Showing a willingness to take risks or be confident and courageous.

Example: "Her bold decision to start her own business paid off."

Border: The line that separates one area or country from another; the boundary.

Example: "The river forms a natural border between the two states."

Bottle: A container with a narrow neck and an opening for pouring liquids.

Example: "He filled the bottle with fresh water before going on the hike."

Box: A rectangular container with sides and a lid; to place something in a box.

Example: "She received a gift box on her birthday."

Boy: A male child or young man.

Example: "The boy played soccer with his friends in the park."

Borrow: To take something temporarily with the intention of returning it.

Example: "Can I borrow your pen to write a note?"

Bottom: The lowest part of something; the underside.

Example: "The treasure chest was hidden at the bottom of the sea."

Both: Referring to two or more things together.

Example: "They both enjoyed the movie."

Bounce: To spring back or rebound after hitting a surface; a lively and energetic movement.

Example: "The basketball bounced off the rim and into the net."

Boundary: A line or limit that separates one area or state from another.

Example: "Respect for personal boundaries is important in any relationship."

Bouquet: A bunch of flowers, typically arranged in an attractive way.

Example: "He gave her a beautiful bouquet of roses."

Bow: To incline the upper part of the body as a sign of respect or greeting; a curved weapon for shooting arrows.

Example: "She made a graceful bow after her performance."

Boxer: A person who participates in the sport of boxing.

Example: "The boxer trained rigorously for the championship match."

Bonus: An extra payment or reward given in addition to regular earnings.

Example: "Employees received a year-end bonus for their hard work."

Boomerang: A curved, flat wooden tool that, when thrown, returns to the thrower.

Example: "He demonstrated how a boomerang works at the park."

Brave: Showing courage or fearlessness in the face of danger or difficulty.

Example: "The firefighter's brave actions saved lives."

Break: To separate or shatter into pieces; a pause or interruption.

Example: "She needed a short break after working for hours."

Branch: A division or offshoot of an organization or family; a part of a tree.

Example: "The bank opened a new branch in the city."

Bread: A staple food made from flour, water, and yeast, typically baked.

Example: "Freshly baked bread has a delightful aroma."

Bridge: A structure built to span a physical obstacle, such as a river or chasm; a card game.

Example: "They crossed the bridge to reach the other side."

Brief: Short in duration, concise; a short statement or document.

Example: "He gave a brief summary of the report."

Bright: Giving off a strong light; intelligent or clever.

Example: "The bright stars shone in the night sky."

Brother: A male sibling; a close male friend or companion.

Example: "She has a younger brother named James."

Brown: A color that is a mixture of red, yellow, and black.

Example: "The squirrel had a brown fur coat."

Brush: An instrument with bristles used for cleaning, painting, or grooming; to clean or tidy with a brush.

Example: "She used a brush to paint the walls."

Broad: Wide in extent or range; covering many areas or topics.

Example: "She has a broad knowledge of art and literature."

Broken: Physically damaged or in pieces; disrupted or not functioning.

Example: "The vase lay broken on the floor."

Bronze: A metal alloy made primarily of copper, often used for statues and medals.

Example: "The sculpture was cast in bronze."

Breeze: A gentle wind; an easy and pleasant task.

Example: "The cool breeze made the summer day more comfortable."

Brownie: A small, chocolatey dessert often containing nuts or icing.

Example: "She baked a batch of delicious brownies."

Bravery: The quality of being brave or courageous.

Example: "His bravery in the face of danger was admirable."

Broadcast: To transmit or air a program, message, or event on radio or television.

Example: "The news will be broadcast live tonight."

Brick: A rectangular block made of clay or concrete, used in building.

Example: "The house was constructed with red bricks."

Broccoli: A green vegetable with edible stalks and florets.

Example: "She steamed some broccoli for a healthy side dish."

British: Relating to the United Kingdom or its people.

Example: "She has British citizenship and a British passport."

Bystander: A person who is present at an event or situation but is not directly involved or taking part.

Example: "The bystanders watched as the firefighters extinguished the blaze."

Bassoon: A musical instrument that is part of the woodwind family, known for its deep and rich sound.

Example: "The orchestra featured a solo bassoonist in the performance."

Bespoke: Custom-made or tailored to a specific individual or purpose.

Example: "He ordered a bespoke suit for his wedding."

Biscuit: A small, typically round baked bread product, often sweet or savory.

Example: "Tea and biscuits are a classic British snack."

Bistro: A small, casual restaurant or café, typically serving simple and hearty dishes.

Example: "They had lunch at a charming bistro in the heart of the city."

Button: A small disk or knob typically used for fastening or as a control on a machine or device.

Example: "He pressed the button to turn on the lights."

Bustle: To move in a hurried and active way, often with a lot of noise and activity.

Example: "The market was bustling with shoppers on the weekend."

Butterfly: A flying insect with colorful wings and a slender body.

Example: "The children watched in awe as the butterfly fluttered by."

Buttock: One of the two round fleshy parts of the body located on the backside.

Example: "She felt a pain in her right buttock after the long hike."

Bystander: A person who is present at an event or situation but is not directly involved or taking part.

Example: "The bystanders watched as the firefighters extinguished the blaze."

Build: To construct or assemble something, such as a building or structure.

Example: "They plan to build a new house on the vacant lot."

Business: An organization or company engaged in commercial, industrial, or professional activities.

Example: "She owns a successful business in the tech industry."

Busy: Engaged in activity; having a lot of things to do.

Example: "He's always busy with work and family commitments."

Bust: To break or damage something, often referring to a sculpture or statue.

Example: "The vandals tried to bust the marble statue in the park."

Butter: A dairy product made from cream, commonly used in cooking and as a spread.

Example: "She spread butter on her toast for breakfast."

Buy: To acquire something in exchange for money; to purchase.

Example: "I need to buy groceries on my way home."

Budget: A financial plan that outlines income and expenses for a specific period.

Example: "They created a budget to save money for their vacation."

Bubble: A thin sphere of liquid enclosing air or gas; a temporary period of economic growth.

Example: "The children enjoyed blowing bubbles in the backyard."

Bucket: A cylindrical container with a handle, often used for carrying liquids or objects.

Example: "He filled the bucket with water from the well."

Bundle: A collection of items that are bound or tied together.

Example: "She carried a bundle of firewood into the cabin."

Bumpy: Having a rough or uneven surface; marked by bumps or jolts.

Example: "The road became bumpy as they entered the mountainous area."

Burden: A heavy load or responsibility; something that causes worry or distress.

Example: "Taking care of her sick father became a significant burden."

Burglar: A person who illegally enters buildings or homes to commit theft or crimes.

Example: "The burglar was caught and arrested by the police."

Bustling: Full of activity, energy, and movement; lively.

Example: "The city's downtown area is always bustling with people."

Bustle: To move in a hurried and active way, often with a lot of noise and activity.

Example: "The market was bustling with shoppers on the weekend."

Bulletin: A brief and official public statement or announcement.

Example: "The school sent out a bulletin to parents about the upcoming event."

Bungalow: A small, single-story house or cottage with a low-pitched roof.

Example: "They decided to retire in a cozy bungalow by the beach."

Button: A small disk or knob typically used for fastening or as a control on a machine or device.

Example: "He pressed the button to turn on the lights."

Buffet: A meal consisting of a variety of dishes presented on a table for guests to serve themselves.

Example: "They enjoyed a buffet dinner with a wide range of options."

Butterfly: A flying insect with colorful wings and a slender body.

Example: "The children watched in awe as the butterfly fluttered by."

Bwana: A Swahili term used in East Africa as a polite and respectful way to address a man, especially a foreigner or boss.

Example: "The safari guide was referred to as 'Bwana' by the local staff."

By: Indicating the means or method of achieving something; near or beside.

Example: "She traveled to work by bus."

Bye: A casual way to say farewell or goodbye.

Example: "He waved and said, 'Bye, see you later!'"

Bypass: To go around or avoid something, such as a road or procedure.

Example: "They took a bypass to avoid the traffic jam."

Bygone: Relating to a past time or era; no longer in existence.

Example: "The bygone days of childhood were filled with joy."

Byproduct: A secondary or incidental product or result of a process.

Example: "The production of electricity is often a byproduct of nuclear reactions."

Byte: A unit of digital information storage, typically consisting of eight bits.

Example: "The file size is measured in bytes."

Bylaw: A rule or regulation established by a local authority or organization.

Example: "The neighborhood association has strict bylaws."

Bystander: A person who is present at an event or situation but is not directly involved or taking part.

Example: "The bystanders watched as the firefighters extinguished the blaze."

Byzantine: Complicated, intricate, or resembling the Byzantine Empire's complex systems.

Example: "The company's decision-making process seemed Byzantine to outsiders."

Byproduct: A secondary or incidental product or result of a process.

Example: "The production of electricity is often a byproduct of nuclear reactions."

Byway: A less-traveled or narrow road or path, often scenic in nature.

Example: "They took a peaceful byway through the countryside."

Bye-election: An election held to fill a political office that has become vacant between regularly scheduled elections.

Example: "A bye-election was called after the resignation of the local representative."

FOR MORE ONE WORDS GO TO

WEBSITE <https://chitrabazar.com/english-dictionary/>

